DENY CYPRESS TRAFFIC CONTROL

I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILIPS

Now that America has allowed emotion, propaganda, and wishful thinking to guide it into a project to pay the bills for saving the world, without first finding out who will administer the program, just what the facts were, or when, in all history, money ever brought appeasement, frienship, or salvation, suppose we explore the reactions of the people who are to be saved.

The president announed the appointment of Mr. Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Corporation, as the administrator of ERP, which has already, in true New Deal fashion, acquired a new name; he is to be "Administrator for Economic Cooperation."

Mr. Hoffman made an enviable record in pulling Studebaker from financial difficulties into success. However, it's hard sometimes, without a second look, to tell which way the Studebaker car is headed, and I find the same difficulty when I read one of Mr. Hoffman's irst statements; that he "hoped to develop Soviet trade with the nations of Western Europe."

I've been telling you for weeks that this is what the Western nations have in mind, and I put into the Congressional Record a statement to that effect from the foreign minister of Norway, but the state department and the president have insisted otherwise. Maybe a Studebaker official was a good choice, considering these acts!

What do other nations think about the plan? A London paper with 4,000,000 circulation, polled its readers. They were opposed to the Marshall Plan. A national magazine in this country has an article in the current issue; a poll in England, Sweden, Switzerland, France and Italy. One quetion was, are you for the Marshall Plan, against it, or indifferent- A minority hadn't heard of it. Of those who did know about it, the following favored the plan: In England, 55% with 30% undecided; in Sweden 50% with 42% undecided; in Switzerland 57% with 39% undecided; in France 63% with 22% undecided, and in Italy 65% with 21% undecided. The figures are not conclusive but the do not seem to support the emotional urgency impressed on the Congress, and the people, by Mr. Truman and the tate department.

In the face of California's dryness, it might be well to re-read a paragraph in the London ECONOMIST, October 18, 1947: "Maybe when the next drought comes * * * they (America) will be in better shape to ride it out, and more adapt the conditions which will confront them," (the article then talks briefly about the dust bowl) "but the time is rapidly approaching when rain will be too late to prevent serious trouble next year. The danger that Europe's hunger may revive. America's dust bowl is a real one, a fact with which the writers of the Paris Report will be forced to reckon."

I rise to remark that INFLATION is a form of economic erosion, which threatens our economic life, and our future productivity, and thus our ability to support ERP's or ECP's or continual aid to other nations. We should remember a comment in the London SPECTATOR, for October 31, 1947, "America has plenty; but not plenty for all the world."

To which I can only add the following statement, issued April 6, nine days ago, as quoted by the press services. The president's council of economic advisors had this to say: "Climbing prices in the first three months of 1948 not only wiped out an actual gain in per capita income after taxes, but sent the purchasing power of that income reeling backwards." The 1939 food dollar now buys 46c worth of food.

Before we go completely haywire in our emotional desire to save the in our emotional disire to save the world, shouldn't we find out how the people we are saving really feel about it?

CORRECTION

Stan Doerr and Bobby Doerr are cousins. It was erroneously stated in last week's edition that the two men were brothers.

Was you there, Sharley? If you are interested in the traffic situation in Cypress, you will attend the next meeting of the safety council.

Mrs. Paul Lossett, 5572 Vonnie Lane, entertained a group of friends at a luncheon in her home on Wednesday. Those present were Mesdames Fred Daniels, D. J. Lossette, and Ted Smalley, from Hawaiian Garden, and Mrs. Ethel Southard and Mrs. J. Julian.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wallace, 5662 Lincoln avenue, had as their week end guest George Haigh, of the Navy Air Corps, stationed at Rheem Field, near San Diego. George's family resides in Boston, Massachusetts, and his mother is Wallace's youngest sister.

Board Again Refuses Four-Way Stop At Lincoln And Walker

It was disclosed at the meeting of the Cypress Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday evening that the Board of Supervisors has once more turned down the request from this community for a four-way stop sign at Lincoln and Walker streets in Cypress.

Secretary Flynn reported that a letter was directed to the Orange county board of supervisors which said that Cypress would be forced to do something to slow the traffic down on Lincoln avenue, and that with approximately 200 new families in our community we need to do something immediately. Help was requested from the Orange county board of supervisors in getting a four-way stop on Lincoln and Walker streets in Cypress.

In reply, Flynn received a letter from James A. Baker, supervisor, third district, acknowledging the request to the board of supervisors and saying, in part, quote, "I might state that a report from the Orange county traffic committee has been received by the board of supervisors . . . I might state, however, in looking at the committee's recommendation, that they ask for no action on four-way stop signs as recommended. The representative of the division of highways stated that his office is still unable to agree that a four-way stop is necessary. Serving on the traffic committee at the time this investigation was made at said corner are the following members: T. W. Clarke, Deputy Road Commissioner; Captain H. C. Meehan, State Highway Patrol; Merle Emerson, Manager, Signposting Department, Auto Club of Southern California; A. L. Hutchinson, Assistant District Traffic Engineer, State Division of Highways and C. E. Downie, Secretary. Mr. Downie is our own right-of-way agent and secretary to the above mentioned committee."

As a solution to this problem for Cypress, Baker continues, "It appears that if favorable action is to be had in this matter, that continued action of the part of the Chamber of Commerce, together with the Board of Supervisors, may be needed. I would suggest that your Chamber communicate with Headquarters of the State Division of Highways in Los Angeles and call this matter to their attention." end of quote.

"Continued action," as stated above, on the part of the local Chamber of Commerce, is a pledge the citizens of Cypress may depend upon in this long fight to slow traffic down on a street which is not only a main artery of city traffic, but is now also a state highway as well. Its members listened in stunned silence to this new rebuff in the attempts to make our streets safe, and they soberly and thoughtfully pose this question — How many will have to sacrifice their lives on the streets of Cypress before this so-called "continued action" will have any effect?

At this point it would be well to examine a statistic or two. California ranks at the top in the number of motor vehicle traffic deaths among the forty-eight states. This is not a "first" of which the state is proud. In 1946 there were 3664 deaths, compared to the next highest ranking state which was New York, with 1964! Similar figures for 1945 shows 3542 deaths for California. Last year, 33 per cent of all persons killed on America's streets and highways were pedestrians. Between Pearl Harbor and V-J day almost 100,000 more people were killed in accidents than were killed in all the armed forces. And so it goes.

When examining the effect of a situation, it is also well to examine its cause. Follow along Lincoln avenue as the approach to Cypress is made from either direction. The highway is narrow. In the commercial center of town the street is widened to comfortable enough dimensions for passing. The result is obvious. A motorist or trucker, who has followed along in slow traffic for a considerable distance, takes this opportunity to pass and hurry on his way. Who stands to suffer? Our children, our aged, our handicapped — and us, if we don't step lively enough as we go about our daily tasks.

And so we ponder over the failure of the proper authorities to recommend that such a simple request be granted as the installation of a four-way signal to preserve life and limb in our little city. Who is to blame? Certainly not the residents of Cypress.

In the future, when reporting a fire, dial "Operator" — tell her to contact the Cypress Fire Department. It is important that person who is calling REMAINS ON THE LINE until a Cypress fireman answers the call. Then give name of person reporting, and location of fire.

Contract Let And Work Begins Enlarging School

Bids for the construction of six new class rooms, storage space and lavatories at the Cypress school were opened Monday night by the school board, Murton Pennall, Dan Mackay and A. E. Arnold. Eleven bids were submitted ranging from $125,482 to $97,876. The last named bid was that of Tom Norcross of Long Beach, who was awarded the contract.

Plans call for two buildings running north and south to take advantage of better lighting, and will be connected with the main buildings by covered walks. Mackay states that the school rooms will be furnished with all new furniture and the buildings will be equipped in the latest modern methods, including radio loud speakers in all rooms. The school board has used foresight in planning for this new addition, and the furniture has been on order for several months, for delivery in September, direct from the factory in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Construction will begin on April 19 and the contractor has promised to have them completed and ready for occupancy by September 19.

Several friends from Compton and Bellflower called on John Thompson last Sunday, to cheer him up after his recent illness. The Thompson's live at 5271 Bishop street.

How interested are you in whether or not our streets are made safe from excessive speed of traffic in Lincoln avenue? Be at the next meeting of the safety council. Watch the calendar for announcement of date.

Mrs. Andrew C. Rodabaugh of Court street attended a meeting of the Orange County Tuberculosis association in the Santa Ana Ebell club on Monday evening. Mrs. Rodabaugh was re-elected a director for a four year term. Dinner preceded the meeting.

IT'S BEING SAID -- IN CYPRESS

That one of the hardest working brother combinations in town may be found plying their trade at the Cypress garage. We haven't kept a close check, but we have seen one of the two boys stop for coffee now and then down at the corner.

That it is ironic that a first class letter bearing only two cents postage reached us safely and on time. And what should it contain but adverse criticism directed at our little newsheet! How many years has it been since the postal regulations were changed to require three cents postage on intra-city correspondence?

That the staff down at the Pine Cafe is an unusual lot. 'Mom's' not only can cook like a queen herself, but she's sensible enough now and then to take a little jaunt up to her old home town of Hawthorne to indulge in a little of someone else's cuisine in the form of a luncheon and social hour. There is other talent hiding around the place, too. Chris indulges in writing, and Margaret and her partner will enter the championship roller skating contest in Pomona May 7 and 8.

That two Mrs. Browning's had quite a gab-fest the other day discussing the similarity of their names. It seems that there really are only a few people who were born into families with Browning for a last name, and Cypress seems to have gathered several unrelated ones into its fold. Not only that, but the initials are identical sometimes, which further complicates matters. Fortunately, George doesn't have to worry about the "H. A.'s," and vice versa.

That we understand we should have "trained" for the dance we went to last Saturday night at the Bel Air hotel by attending the local fireman's ball first which will occur this Saturday evening.

That there is no sports column this week. We don't know what kind of scores Lee's boys had, but we're afraid if we mentioned Ken's, Jim's and Sam's we'd get run out of town. Gary could do a lot better, too.

That shoe repairer Addington has probably the most comely business assistant in town. And besides making it pleasant to visit the shoe shop, she's efficient, too.

Epidemic of Burglaries Hits Buena Park

For the third time in recent weeks, the Humphrey liquor store on Manchester was the victim of armed robbery Saturday night. The owner, unwilling to face the situation a third time, ducked into the back room, leaving the men to rifle the cash register unmolested. The take was only about $60 this time as against much larger sums in previous raids.

On Monday night both Valuskis theatre and the Pepper Tree were entered and considerable damage was done both places at small profit to the theives.

In the Pepper Tree juke boxes and vending machines were forced and about $30 taken. At the theatre, three doors were broken open and odds and ends including 5 rolls of tickets were taken.

Fred Shaeffer, Alhambra pie distributor tipped sheriff's deputies off to the damage at the Pepper Tree and apparently the robbers were novices for many clues including fingerprints and other aids to modern crime detection were found. Deputies state that the eventual apprehension of the criminals is practically assured, so poorly were the traces covered.

DeWitts Give Heike Family Farewell

Members of the DeWitt family gathered at the Raymond DeWitt home on Wright street in Garden Grove on Sunday for a family get-together and farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heikes, who left this week to make their home in Lenore, Kansas.

A roast turkey dinner was served at noon to the group which included Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeWitt and sons, Willard, Raymond and Harold; Albert DeWitt and children, Clarwin and Miss Jeannine DeWitt; Mr. and Mrs. Everett DeWitt and daughter, Carol; and the children of the host couple, Ray and Everetta DeWitt, all of Garden Grove; Mrs. Tabitha Hatfield of El Monte; Mr. and Mrs. Don Bernhart; Mr. and Mrs. Donald DeWitt and children, Dorrance DeWitt and daughter, Connie Jean; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lennerville and daughter, Charlene, W. O. DeWitt; Mr. and Mrs. Heikes and children, Deanna and Virginia.

Groups To Unite To Plan For Sanitary District

Brought about by the refusal of the county health department to okay the present sewage disposal system at the new Alamo Rancho subdivision, and the subsequent refusal of the FHA to grant any more loans until the situation can be remedied, a great deal of discussion took place at the meeting of the Los Alamitos Chamber of Commerce recently.

George Stearn and Franklin Hall, developers of the tract, which already has sold the first 85 homes, are meeting with the county health department trying to arrange a temporary set-up which will meet with the approval of the FHA until such time at the county-wide sewer system can be established. In the meantime, Roy Wright, president of the chamber, appointed August Labourette, Franklin Hall and Coy Long on a committee to cooperate with Stanton and Cypress groups in forming some kind of a sanitary district in order that these communities may participate in the county sanitation program.

Willis H. Warner, district supervisor, was present at the meeting and explained the proposed "skeleton plan" now being considered for the county-wide sanitation plan in which only cities and sanitary districts will be included. He pointed out that due to much vacant land between the three communities of Cypress, Stanton and Los Alamitos, it might be necessary to form three districts instead of one.

Firemen Fight False Alarms

Buena Park's Fire Chief, Tom Nelson, answered a fire call Sunday night and instead of a fire, discovered a couple of boys had called the number "just for the fun of it." When advised by Tom that wilfull misuse of emergency facilities was a penetentary offense, the boys said they didn't care, they were "just having fun."

The fire department has requested that in the future the telephone company trace all emergency calls and false alarms of an unnecessary nature will be subject to prosecution.

The department was called to the Sanitary District building at 8th and Western Wednesday noon but the oily rags and pieces of wood burning near the west wall were easily extinguisher.

Are you watching for the announcement of the next meeting of the safety council so you will be there?

P-T.A. Makes Final Plans For Carnival

A "get-acquainted" tea was held Friday afternoon at the Cypress school, sponsored by the Cypress Parent-Teacher association. The purpose of the tea was twofold: as the name suggests, it was to present an opportunity for mothers, especially the newcomers, to meet socially and become acquainted, and to disucss plans and get new ideas for the coming carnival. Mrs. Frank Leverich assumed the duties of hostess and presided at the prettily decorated tea table where ice cream, cake, candy, nuts and tea were served. During the interval two songs were sung by the fourth grade pupils under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Brown.

Plans for the carnival were completed with May 7 set as the definite date. The concessions and serving of the dinner will start at five o'clock and the closing hour will be nine o'clock. In addition to the usual concession and dinner, an amateur show under the direction of the teachers and a contest for Queen of the Carnival among the seventh and eighth grade girls will be featured.

Committee appointments include Mrs. John Lukens, concessions; Mrs. Howard Decker, food; Mrs. Richard Hathcock, kitchen; Mrs. Frank Leverich, dining room; Mrs. F. Odermatt, coffee; Mrs. M. R. Bouse, cashier in dining room; Mrs. Ivan Mahaffie, tickets; and serving, Mrs. Florence Kennedy.

NOTICE

A. E. "Pat" Arnold, fire chief, has stated that after the 16th of April, it will be necessary for anyone wishing an open fire for burning trash or weeds to first secure a permit. These permits will be issued at the Cypress Hardware Company or the Cypress Beverage Store.

Open House At West Anaheim Fire Department

After seven years of planning and work at regular weekly meetings, the West Anaheim Fire Department is inviting the public to inspect their newly completed building at 8366 S. Grand Ave., on Tuesday, April 20. All residents of the school districts comprising the area served are particularly invited. They are Orangethorpe, Lo-ara, Magnolia, Savanna and Centralia.

Open house hours on the 20th will be from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. and members of the department will be on hand to welcome visitors, answer questions and discuss the problems of fire control. Light refreshments will be served.

The completion of this new building just south of Knott's Berry Farm, with the addition of a late model fire truck, fulfils the long worked for dreams of a group of 20 volunteer firemen.

The group was organized more than seven years ago. At the outbreak of the war they were taken into the Division of Forestry and given better fire fighting equipment and training. From that time on the activity for starting the new building began.

The men who compose the department are proud of the new quarters and hope many of their neighbors will visit and talk over their problems on Tuesday so that the fire problems of the area can be taken care of.

Centralia School P-T.A. Elects Officers

Mrs. Carl Korn was elected to head the Centralia Parent-Teacher association for the coming year, annual election of officers yesterday afternoon determined. Re-elected to serve as vice-president for the second year was Mrs. Joe Ferguson; also re-elected for treasurer was Mrs. Ed Maahs and Mrs. Pauline Tidwell will be the new secretary. Serving on the nominating committee were Mrs. Jimmy Richardson, chairman; Mrs. H. St. Pierre and Mrs. Mabel Heitman.

The treasurer's report showed $263 realized from the carnival which took place on Friday evening.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Annette Edwards, chairman of the County Child Guidance Clinic in Santa Ana, who told of the work being done in her department and the objectives of the work in the clinic. She stated that 500 children had been examined during the past year. Three developments in a child were stressed by Mrs. Edwards: physical development, mental development and emotional development, each bringing its own particular problems. Under or over development in any of these classes may result in a problem child.

Music for the program was furnished by Carol Hochuli of Anaheim high school who offered two compositions of Fritz Kreisler as violin solos. Betty Starkwell, a cousin of Miss Hochuli, played the piano accompaniment.

Hostesses for the social interval were Mrs. Harry Tindell, Mrs. Everett Trindell and Mrs. Virgil Still.

Stolen Cow Returned To Own Pasture

Several weeks ago, Andres Du on, 5601 Bishop street, repo to the sheriff's office the loss a three-year-old Guernsey he heavy with calf. He said that the animal had been tied in a pasture near the Pacific Electric tracks and that it had disappeared.

Today, the cow is back i its own pasture after the owner, following a tip as to her whereabouts, found her on Carmenita street ar Sixth in Norwalk. The man who had taken it sought to sell the $200 animal for only $10, it as reported. Duran said he would not prefer charges.

READER INTEREST CHALLENGED

There are two departments in a newspaper that we feel need a little "mental persuasion" in order to be "waded through," especially in a publication which is new and unfamiliar in a community. We base our opinion on our own reluctance to scan the editorials thoroughly, which we usually consider rather "stuffy" reading. The other section to which we refer is the classified, or want ads.

To illustrate what we mean, the first issue we published contained an item in the "For Sale" column bearing the name and address of a local resident who is easily accessible. He was offering for sale a washing machine. No one could make a statement about that machine one way or another, because not a soul contacted the advertiser to even examine it. The only complaint could come from the advertiser himself, who probably doubts the historic, time-honored slogan, "It pays to advertise."

Since the second issue we have been carrying a display ad for a small-space advertiser. We know this has not been answered because our office is listed as the proper source for inquiry.

So we'll make you a deal. To the first of our readers who proves that he has availed himself of any article advertised in our classified ads originating in Cypress, we will pay him the amount it cost the advertiser to run the notice. Fair enough? The advertiser will be happy that his advertisement brought results, you will be happy, and we will have refuted our point—that no one reads the editorials or classified ads.

THE TIME IS NOW

By Charles Luckman
(President, Lever Brothers; Chairman, President's Citizens' Food Committee; member, President's Committee on Civil Rights.)

Charles Luckman

Events in the United States have a way of making headlines all over the world. What we do in this country very often sets the pattern for action in other lands and determines the kind of leadership we are able to exert on the international scene. This important fact highlighted the deliberations of both Presidential Committees on which I recently served—the President's Citizens' Food Committee and the President's Committee on Civil Rights. Each dealt with special problems, but the work of both was intimately tied up with international peace.

The recent war made it all too clear that when civil rights are destroyed anywhere, peace everywhere may soon die with them. That is why the United Nations is so hard at work on an International Bill of Human Rights; why the United States takes so firm a stand on the safeguarding of basic freedoms in every land. It is one of the reasons why President Truman appointed his Committee on Civil Rights to examine the condition of our own liberties and suggest ways of making sure that our great tradition of freedom finds constant expression in the daily lives of Americans. The Committee has been gratified by the wide acceptance and growing support of the Report we submitted to the President at the end of our year-long survey. This widespread comment on the Committee's work shows that thoughtful Americans consider it increasingly urgent to fill in the gaps between our commitments under the UN charter and our actions here at home.

In its investigations the Committee found much that was shameful and shocking. It found evidence, in many instances, of discrimination in employment, housing and education; of unequal justice under the law; of mob violence and police brutality; of inhumanity on the part of some Americans towards others. But it found, also, much reason for faith and hope—faith in the intrinsic good will of the American people, and hope for a continuing record of improvement over the years.

There is growing public awareness that racial and religious discrimination, with its resulting evils—slums, crime, disease and unemployment—is a costly drain on our economic well-being and a serious blot on our national record. It is obvious, too, that continuing evidence of bigotry in the United States will be distorted and exaggerated among our neighbors abroad by those who are anxious to discredit democracy in the eyes of the world.

These problems must be met and solved. If we are to continue our leadership internationally, we must show in this country complete respect for the rights of all people. The Report of the President's Committee on Civil Rights outlines a program of education and legislation in which every American can play a meaningful part. The whole world is waiting to see how these recommendations are received, and how quickly we bring our actions in line with the spirit of the United Nations charter. The time is now.

Shower Is Given For Mrs. Wm. Reed

Mrs. William Reed, (nee Mildred Curtis) of Buena Park received an assortment of pretty layette gifts on a recent evening when she was incentive for a "blessed event" shower which had setting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Curtis on Lincoln avenue. Her sister, Miss Beverly Curtis, was co-hostess with Mrs. Curtis at the affair.

Arangements of spring flowers in pastel shades decked the home and the shower motif of the affair was carried out in the pink parasol on the table under which the gifts were placed and during the refreshment period with pink kimona napkins and bootee nut cups.

The guest of honor, who was prize winner in a game which was the diversion of the evening, was presented with a lovely corsage of lilacs and sweet peas.

Strawberry shortcake with whipped cream and coffee were the refreshments with which the hostesses concluded their hospitality.

Included in the guest list were Mrs. Alfred Gosch, Long Beach; Mrs. Alfred Bonney, Santa Ana; Mrs. Don Felbaum, Fullerton; Mrs. Neil Schroth, Whittier; Mrs. Harold Redelberger, Buena Park; Mrs. Albert Cranston, Mrs. Manuel Seekins, Mrs. Ted Payne, Mrs. Wilbert Bonney and Miss Barbara Myers, all of Anaheim.

Program Is Interesting At P-T.A. Meeting

A large audience was present at Thursday night's meeting of the Cypress Parent-Teacher association to hear Francis Addy, assistant county superintendent, speak on "Delinquent Parents." In enlarging on his topic, Addy stated that the insecurity felt by children in broken homes was the largest factor in their becoming delinquent. He placed the blame on the shoulders of the parents who are overindulgent, who fail to punish when necessary, who do not take time to become acquainted with their child's companions, who withhold information from one another who are gullible in believing everything their child tells them without bothering to check up occasionally, who fail to provide medical care when necessary or to provide decent homes, who allow their children to keep late hours and who fail to make their child face facts by always finding an excuse. Fewer delinquent parents will result in fewer delinquent homes, he declared.

Due to an oversight in reading the by-laws of the association which states that the nominating committee must be elected, the report of the committe which had been appointed at the March meeting could not be heard and that portion in the minutes pertaining to the appointment of the committee was voted to be stricken out. Elected on the new nomination committee were Mrs. Mildred Fender and Mrs. M. R. Bouse, with the principal, Miss Elizabeth Dickerson automatically becoming a member. Both the election of the new officers and the installation will take place at the May meeting.

Mrs. Norville Chapman was elected as delegate to attend the convention of California Parents and Teachers which will be held in May in Sacramento.

The school carnival was announced for May 7 and it was voted that the proceeds go toward a portable piano which could be moved from room to room with little difficulty and eliminate the necessity of the children having to be taken to the auditorium each time. Announcement was also made of the card party which will be held on April 22 at eight o'clock with the teachers as hostesses.

Room count resulted in the 2nd, 3rd and 8th grades receiving the trophies.

The second grade furnished the program. A safety program was presented by the morning class, each child giving a safety rule that had been discussed in class. Betty Ann Figgs sang a solo and six of the pupils danced an Irish jig.

The afternoon class presented a "Parade of Spring" in which a number of nursery rhymes were sung and six pupils did a Maypole dance.

Second grade room mothers were terval, serving home-made pie, cofhostesses at the refreshment infee and tea.

Woman's Club Entertained By Mrs. James Booher

The hospitality of Mrs. James Booher was enjoyed by members of the Junior Women's club when she received them in her home in Fullerton for their meeting on Wednesday. The usual pot luck luncheon was enoyed at one o'clock.

Plans were made for a picnic dinner to be held at Anaheim City park on Sunday, April 25, to which husbands and families will be invited.

The group has planned a "galloping basket" project, the proceeds to be donated to the recreation park fund. As a send-off, each member brought a wrapped "white elephant" which were sold sight unseen. Mrs. John Lukens started the basket on its way.

Attending Wednesday's meeting were Mesdames H. R. Ellsworth, E. Betke, C. Christianson, Glenn Miser, John Lukens, George Coste, Norville Chapman, Florence Brannan, George Marshall, George Gamble, K. T. Beason, Bennie Pugh, James Palmfer and Lawrence Gaylord.

Little Boy Blue

Would blow his horn,
Go weaving through traffic too fast;
'Twas a great mistake
To blow and not brake,
And Fate upset him at last!

The air turns blue, too, when a reckless Boy Blue turns up in crowded traffic! Other motorists curse him—pedestrians fear him—and no wonder!

Speeding is the prime cause of accidents—it kills 10,000 persons a year. And remember—50 miles an hour may be safe on good roads, on open highways—while 20 can be dangerous in bad weather or heavy traffic. Speeding is driving too fast for conditions.

Drive as though your life depended upon it—it does!
